

WORLD GENDARM

After the collapse of the USSR, the balance of power disappeared, which allowed the United States to begin global expansion - in Iraq, in Yugoslavia, and after "September 11" - in Afghanistan, then in Libya and Syria. Labor and capital all over the world have come face to face, without intermediaries in the form of a "socialism" camp. The competition between the US and the EU sharply intensified, the war of the euro and the dollar began. Therefore, Washington needed to reanimate the old image of an external enemy. A provocation followed with the Georgian attack on South Ossetia in 2008, then there was the maidan-2014 in Kiev

Washington resumed the Cold War, the Kremlin declaratively supported it. However, the bourgeoisie in Russia has not yet matured from class-in-itself to class-for-itself. Therefore, the state in Russia is weak, the government is not even able to collect a progressive tax, totalitarian Russia is just an American myth.

The Russian bourgeoisie continues to remain a comprador oriented to the West. So, oil tycoon Alekperov announced that he is more interested in the United States and Ukraine than Russia, Russian oligarch Abramovich created production in the USA and Canada, another Russian oligarch Mordashev created high-tech production in Detroit, Moscow keeps the stabilization fund in US banks at 1%.

The government and the president of Russia are executing the orders of the ruling class of the Russian comprador export bourgeoisie. In response to the sanctions, Moscow supplies the United States with titanium, oil, engines for intercontinental ballistic missiles aimed at Russia, and other missiles with these engines launch satellites monitoring the territory of Russia into space.

At the request of the IMF, the Kremlin raised its retirement age.

Liberal reforms in Russia, carried out under the dictation of the United States, since 1991 claimed 30 million lives.

Thus, Russia is a hidden ally of the United States, both in the economy and in foreign policy. So, Moscow supported the US sanctions against North Korea.

Let's see who Moscow chose as its allies.

Black men are sentenced to imprisonment, which is on average 19.1% longer than that sentenced by white men in "similar situations".

In the US, cases of killing black children by police are frequent, the court is always on the side of the police. All this happens against the background of official propaganda of tolerance, multiculturalism, the obligatory presence of blacks in every theater troupe, film, in government structures and the implanted replacement of the word "black" by the word "African American."

During the years of the colonization of America, the British with the Spaniards exterminated, according to various sources, from 103 million (according to the calculations with the Verhulst equation) to 120 million Indians.
